DIDSBURY BRANCH

T. W. Cuncannon, Manager
Carstairs Branch—E. D. MacGregor, Mgr.

The open season for chicken and partridge (except Hungarian Partridge) opened on Wednesday of this week, October 1st. The limit is ten a day and 100 during the season. The game is plentiful this year and it is up to all good sports to give the birds a chance—by a chance we mean don't "pot" a whole family at one shot, but give them a chance to show you how fast they can fly when necessary.

AROUND THE TOWN

Watch for bills regarding the sports to be held on Fair Day.

Chas. J. Hall of Carstairs was a visitor in town on Tuesday.

Walter Durrer of Lacombe, spent a few days in Didsbury the later part of last week and the beginning of this.

The new hog pens now completed at the fair grounds would give one an impression of a large city fair accommodation in that line.

A meeting of the Didsbury Curling Club, Limited, will be held at Dr. Reid's office on Thursday, October 2nd, at 8 p.m.

The cattle sale of H. J. Lothian held at the Alexandra Livery barn on Monday, conducted by J. N. Paton, Auctioneer, was a decided success. High prices prevailed.

Don't forget to bring your children to the Fair. The grounds are now fixed up and in good shape to protect all onlookers.

Mr. O. R. Lavers of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., at one time principal of the Didsbury school, will occupy the Presbyterian church Pulpit on Sunday evening next.

Mr. Ed. Parker who lives near the Rugby school west of town was accidentally shot in the head with a bullet from a 22 calibre rifle while out shooting with a few of his friends on Monday evening. From latest reports to hand he is coming on nicely.

Buy your membership ticket for Didsbury Fall Fair for $1.00. This includes privilege of taking in your team, the driver and three others as well as exhibiting whatever you may wish. These tickets can be purchased from the Secretary-Treasurer, P. Reid.

Mr. J. A. Ruby's little nine year old son, Earl, who is so well known amongst the small children of the town and vicinity was thrown from his pony "Kid" while out riding on Wednesday, the 24th inst., with the result that one of his arms were broken.

The W.C.T.U. hopes to offer some good accommodation to the general public on Fair Day, October 8th but are unprepared just yet to make full announcement as to place and arrangements. Kindly watch for later notice. Will also provide a "Rest Tent" on Grounds.

A Public Sale will be held at the farm of Thomas E. Burchell and William D. O'Donnell on the N. W. 1-4 section 18, Tp. 31, Rge. 3, West of 5th M., about 9 miles west of Didsbury, on Friday, October 10th 1913, at the hour of one o'clock sharp. This sale consists of 19 head of A1 horses and about 10 head of cattle. Separate from the above mentioned sale there will be offered for sale at the same time and place by the Royal Bank of Canada, 2 head of horses and some machinery. Terms for these two sales are cash. See large bills for further particulars and a full description of the horses and cattle, etc.

On Saturday afternoon at 2.45 an informal W.C.T.U. "Delegates Rally" will be held at the Ev. personage. All ladies having attended any session of the Provincial Convention at Olds will speak for a few minutes each, on the following subject "My impressions of the Convention." All W.C.T.U. members are especially invited and also to bring a friend if they so desire.

An Historic Boat

What New Yorker hasn't taken a trip on the Hudson River steamboat Mary Powell? What American has not at least heard the name of this white-haired grandmother of steamboats? So questions the New York Outlook, and adds: She has travelled 1,154,000 miles. She has carried millions of passengers, and never lost a life. She has been practically rebuilt three times. Now, like a veteran preparing to go on the retired list she is, it is announced, to be relieved from continuous service. She will continue however, to make special trips on some regular ones.

BABY'S GREAT DANGER DURING HOT WEATHER

More little ones die during hot weather than at any other time of the year. Diarrhoea, dysentery, cholera infantum and stomach disorders come without warning, and when a medicine is not at hand to give promptly the short delay too frequently means that the child has passed beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in the home, where there are young children. An occasional dose of the Tablets will prevent stomach and bowel troubles, or if the trouble comes suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will cure the baby. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Alpine Tunnels

By the forthcoming opening to traffic of the great Loetschberg Tunnel in Switzerland, and the full advantages of the Simplon Tunnel route, with which it connects, will be available for the first time, greatly improving the railway route from England and France to Italy. The Loetschberg is nine and one-quarter miles in length—a age tunnel, but one surpassed by the St. Gothard, which is about a quarter of a mile longer and the simplon, twelve and one-quarter miles in length.

BIG, HEARTY BABY BOY

Mrs. Beck's Fondest Hopes Realized—Health, Happiness and Baby.

Upper Lahave, N. S., Can.,—"I wish to thank you for the benefit I received by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles from which I was a great sufferer, so that I was completely run down in health. Other medicine did not help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me well and strong. I now have a big, hearty baby boy, and praise your medicine for the wonderful lot of good it has done me."—Mrs. ISRAEL BECK, JR., Upper Lahave, Lunenburg Co., N. S., Canada.

The darkest days of husband and wife are when they come to look forward to a childless and lonely old age.

Many a wife has found herself incapable of motherhood owing to some derangement of the feminine system, often curable by the proper remedies.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

The Output of Diamonds

Forty-five years have elapsed since the first diamond was found in Africa and it is calculated that since the development of the diamond mines the world has paid more than $2,000,000,000 for their products. This represents a weight of 90,000,000 carats. If the immense loss from theft in the early years be taken into consideration, and the diamonds taken from Brazilian mines and others in different parts of the world be added to the estimate, it is probable that not less than 100,000,000 carats would be a conservative estimate of the output. The value of these in the rough would be more than $750,000,000; to this must be added the cost of cutting and the profits to the syndicate, to the exporter, to the middleman and the retailer.

Among the most famous diamonds are those of the royal houses of Braganza, and among the most valuable of the Braganza collection is that called the King of Portugal, which weighs 1,680 carats. It was found in Brazil and has never been cut. The most important cut stone of Brazil is that called the Star of the South, which was found by a negress in 1853. It was appropriated by the mine owner who gave her in return a pension for life. The stone was sold for $15,000, the new owner depositing it in the Bank of Rio Janeiro and receiving on this security a loan many times greater than the value paid for the gem. The diamond was at length sold for ten times the amount paid. It was finally acquired by a syndicate and cut in oval form at a cost of $2,600 by a firm in Amsterdam. An Indian Rajah offered more than half a million dollars for it, but was refused. A little later it was bought for the Gaekwar of Baroda.

Conquers Asthma. To be relieved from the terrible suffocating due to asthma is a great thing, but to be safe guarded for the future is even greater. Not only does Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy bring prompt relief but it introduces a new era of life for the afflicted. Systematic inhaling of smoke or fumes from the remedy prevents re-attacks and often effects a permanent cure.

Microbes

A microbe is an imaginary being invented by doctors to scare people out of dying a natural death. Microbes have taken the place of the evil spirits in vogue before the period when people grew so intelligent that they wouldn't believe anything they didn't hear.

Microbes come in assorted packages and spend their entire time in multiplying, adding, subtracting and dividing. They multiply, subtract, add to the fears, subtract you from your money and divide all the profits among the doctors.

Just as everything was once represented by a deity, so everything is now represented by a microbe. Some men are born with microbes, some achieve microbes, but all at some time have microbes thrust upon them.

Helping a Brother

Suddenly the man with the chin beard who was eating his luncheon in a restaurant, reached across the table, touched the button in the lapel of the coat worn by the man directly opposite him and gave him the grip of the secret order to which both belonged.

Brother, he said, I see you're in need, and to live up to my own sworn duty I am compelled to—

In need! Interrupted the other, in wide-eyed astonishment, in need of what?

Of somebody to tell you that a knife is not the proper implement to use when you are eating corned beef hash.

By prompt action half a dozen waiters quelled the disturbance that began immediately, but they were too late to prevent the destruction of about $10 worth of tableware.

A New England mother had come upon her eight-year-old son enjoying a feast whereof the components were jam, butter and bread. Son, said the mother, don't you think it a bit extravagant to eat butter with that fine jam?

No, ma'am, was the response. It's economical; the piece of bread does for both.

The Kite in War

Kites are to form part of the regular equipment of French warships hereafter, being classed as aeronautic apparatus with aeroplanes and dirigibles. They will be powerful enough to take up an observer and will be used for purposes of military observation, for which we are told they are vastly superior to balloons. The greater the wind the more easily they are handled, say a writer in L'illustration.

The mounted kites of Captain Sannoy have been used by the French army for some months. After a long series of experiments, they are also to be used by the navy, which has laid out an aeronautic programme, as follows: The use of aeroplanes is to be limited to coast defense. Dirigibles of great radius of action will be utilized for naval scouting. Recourse will be had to the kite for lighting the squadron as a whole and for surveying a foreign blockaded coast.

The kite has the advantage that the wind, the great enemy of other aerial devices, facilitates its evolutions. If the weather is calm, the ship makes its own wind by its motion. A speed of 18 knots is necessary to elevate the observer. These kites, dismounted and stowed away in some corner, can be mounted five minutes after being brought to the bridge of the ship; while this is being done another party makes ready the apparatus for sending up. There are required fifteen minutes for sending, getting ready the basket, and installing the observer, who remains connected with the ship by telephone. Five minutes is necessary for an ascension of 1,000 feet. Ten suffice for hauling in the rig and stowing it away.

TWICE PROVEN CURE FOR NERVES

Irritable, Hysterical, Sleepless, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food Restores Health.

There is a message in this letter for thousands of women who are suffering from broken-down nervous systems. Sleepless nights, much irritability over little things, spells of dizziness and nervous sick headaches are among the symptoms.

You may not realize the nature of your ailment until nervous prostration comes upon you. But, in whatever stage you find yourself, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is ready to help you.

Mrs. W. J. May, 88 Annette street, Toronto, writes: "Some years ago I suffered from nervous trouble and took Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which completely cured me. About six months ago I received a shock which again shattered my nervous system to such an extent that I was irritable and hysterical, and could not sleep nights. I began to use the Nerve Food again and was not disappointed. Improvement was apparent from the first box, and now I am entirely well." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, all dealers.

Moral Clean-Up

A Sunday school teacher on the Park Slope, Brooklyn, told her boys of the city's spring clean up, and of the admonition that even the cellars and backyards should be cleaned. Thence she drew a lesson in moral cleanliness, telling the youngsters that while regard for outward appearance was commendable inward purity was much more meritorious. To make them further interested she offered a prize to the boy who should bring the written or printed motto that best expressed it.

Remember she said, that the motto must bear especially on the necessity for inward cleanliness—the purity of a heart as pure and polished as a spotless gold.

Last Sunday one of the smallest of the boys handed in a placard printed in big black letters.

Where did you get this? the teacher asked.

Swiped it this morning off Tony's bootblack stand outside the corner bar-room.

The motto read: Shine inside.

Looking for Pointers

Husband (at police station)—They say you have caught the fellow who robbed our house night before last.

Sergeant—Yes; do you want to see him?

Husband—Sure. I'd like to talk to him. I want to know how he got in without waking the wife. I've been trying to do that for the last twenty years.

Evidence of Expertness

Does that young man understand music?

I think he must, replied the man who always gives the benefit. When he plays he sounds exactly like a piano tuner.

Emphasis

Mrs. Buggins—Do you darn your husband's socks?

Mrs. Dashaway—No, I speak of them a little more profanely than that.

Animals Make Poor Sailors

Probably many people have not witnessed the performance of animals when on a sea journey. It would no doubt be as interesting to watch their antics on board ship as on the stage. Most animals make poor sailors. Horses and tigers suffer most of all; they whine pitifully, and their eyes water continually. Elephants, too, suffer greatly, but they are very amenable to medical attention.

When the elephant falls seasick, a bucket of fresh water, containing seven ounces of quinine and three and one-half pints of whiskey, is supplied.

Birds, however, delight in sea voyages. Recently a number of English songbirds, such as the lark and robin were dispatched to British Columbia.

The polar bear, too, enjoys a sea journey. He is described as very gay while on board ship. But most other animals greatly resent sea trips.

Do not allow worms to sap the vitality of your children. If not attended to, worms may work irreparable harm to the constitution of the infant. The little sufferers cannot voice their ailment, but there are many signs by which mothers are made aware that a dose of Miller's Worm Powder is necessary. These powders act quickly and will expel worms from the system without any inconvenience to the child.

There is a delicious flavor about this story of a Virginia lady married to a man who, though uniformly unsuccessful in his hunting trips, boasting spoke of his killings.

One day, returning from a trip with the usual accompaniment of an empty bag, it occurred to him that his wife would make fun of him if he returned without even one proof of his oft-boasted skill. So he purchased a brace of partridges to deceive his trusting spouse. As he threw them on the table in front of her he observed: Well, my dear, you see I am not so awkward with the gun after all.

Dick, replied the wife, turning from the birds with a grimace, after a brief examination, you were quite right in shooting these birds today; tomorrow it would have been too late.

I had a dream the other night, said the joker at a luncheon table recently. I dreamed I was in business with a rich man, selling potted flowers. But business was bad and we decided to discontinue business. I wanted the pots and flowers and took them.

What did the rich man want? asked one of the guests, innocently.
He wanted the earth, replied the wit.

Birds Build Nests in Gourds

By hollowing out gourds and suspending them from trees and poles, an Illinois farmer provides nesting places for the native American birds, the wren and the bluebird, and protects them from the aggressive English sparrow, which has a tendency to monopolize the desirable nesting places. The gourds designed for wrens have entrance holes about the size of a silver quarter. This is sufficiently large for a wren to pass through but not large enough for a sparrow.

The bluebird is about the same size as the sparrow, so a different arrangement was necessary. The farmer discovered that the English sparrows would not use the gourds if they were placed in the sun, but that the bluebirds would. Secure nesting places were therefore provided for the latter by suspending the gourds from poles placed out in the open.

Filrt

A flirt, he said, is a rose from which everybody takes a petal; the thorns remain for the future husband.

Rural Municipality of Mountain View No. 310

The Council of the Rural Municipality of Mountain View, No. 310 met at Mayton on Saturday, September 27, 1913.

All the Councilors were present. The Council were not in accord on passing a resolution to add a sur-tax of $10 per quarter section on land owned by non residents.

A large number of disputed taxes were dealt with and in some cases the claims were favorably considered.

A Herd By-law was introduced for the restraining of Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Goats and Swine from running at large during the whole year, of which such by-law will be published in the different newspapers in the municipality for three consecutive weeks.

The polling divisions were altered. In future the divisions will be as follows:

No. 1.—Tp. 31, Rge. 27, W. 4th. South 1/2 of Tp. 32, Rge. 27, W. 4th.
No. 2.—Tp. 31, Rge. 28 and 29, W. 4th. South 1/2 of Tp. 32, Rge. 28 and 29, W. 4th.

Pure Food Exposition and Fashion Show

Probably the biggest event ever staged in the Canadian West will be the Pure Food and Fashion Exhibition which will be held in Calgary from October 18th to 28th, inclusive.

The handsome new horse show building at Victoria Park has been secured for this great event, and this alone, is a sign that the display of Pure Foods and Fashions will eclipse anything of its kind ever attempted in Western Canada.

Manager Cheeseman, the man behind the gun in this great undertaking, has had several years experience in conducting Pure Foods Expositions in the middle west and south. He is also head of the Art Decorating Company of Calgary, and his training in this line of work will be of great value in making the Pure Food Show attractive.

As well as having secured all of the leading manufacturers in the Dominion to make exhibits of their products, Manager Cheeseman has made arrangements with the Manitoba Government to have their wonderful tubercular exhibit shown at this exposition. This exhibit as well as showing the different stages of this dreaded disease due in a great measure to the uses of impure foods, will point out why people should be careful in the selection of what they eat and wear.

This Pure Food Exposition will be a blessing to many a household. The problems of the home will be demonstrated—explained by those who know.

There will be cooking competitions—an educational course in good living. Interspersed with these object lessons there will be staged twice daily a vaudeville show of the best, as well as a midway of several of the best shows obtainable.

Excursion rates will be in force on all railroads. Make your plans early to attend the Pure Food and Fashion Exposition and don't forget the dates—October 18th to 28th, inclusive.

When you have a bad cold you want the best medicine obtainable so as to cure it with as little delay as possible. Here is a druggist's opinion. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for fifteen years," says Enos Lollar of Saratoga, Ind., "and consider it the best on the market." For sale by all dealers.

Distribution of Pure Bred Male Animals

As announced early in the season, the Dominion Live Stock Branch has this year undertaken a distribution of pure bred male animals throughout Canada on a somewhat extensive scale. In inaugurating this policy the aim has been to aid sections where pure bred sires were lacking and to encourage new communities in following an intelligent system in breeding. This form of assistance has proven very popular and during the past few months a large number of bulls and several stallions have been placed in various parts of the country in the hands of local associations formed specially for the purpose of handling and maintaining them. All animals placed remain the property of the Department of Agriculture, the local associations assuming the responsibility for their maintenance and management under the general supervision of officers of the Live Stock Branch.

The distribution of bulls and stallions having been brought to a close for this year the opportunity is now open to deal with applications for boars and rams. Full information regarding the rules governing the distribution and the procedure to be followed in forming the necessary organization may be had upon application to the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa.

As it is the intention to consider only such requests as are forwarded before October 20th, it will be necessary for districts desiring to take advantage of this offer to act promptly.

Their ingredients are soothing to the inflamed membranes of the stomach. Rich in Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine, the relief they afford is very prompt. Used persistently and regularly for a short time, they tend to relieve pains caused by stomach disorders.

In the House

Now you must tell me all about it from the beginning to the end. It was a lady who gave the somewhat comprehensive command; one who looked as if she had a right to be obeyed, not by reason of any imperiousness of manner, but from a happy combination of youth and loveliness. For, after all, these two things—in woman—do rule the world.

Maud Hanley was sitting in her favorite chair in the boudoir, in the same evening dress she had worn when Murgatroyd had first invaded that favorite sanctum. In her hair was a little diamond star her father had given her.

Murgatroyd had been in the Strangers' Gallery of the House of Commons during the debate, and had strict orders to report himself and it, immediately it was over. He was here in consequence, although it was nearly 11 p.m.

Rarely had the House of Commons been so stirred on the opening night of a session. The formalities of moving and seconding the Address having been gone through with the usual complimentary speeches from the leaders on both sides, Mr. Thompson-Halliday rose to move his amendment, from below the gangway. Not only was every seat occupied, but members stood on every available vantage-ground.

The heir to the throne looked on at the animated scene with sympathetic curiosity from the Distinguished Strangers' Gallery, where several of Sir Richard Hanley's colleagues in the Upper House were also sitting. The Pioneer was in every one's hands, it had come out very strong in favor of the Government; but, in this respect, it stood alone. The Opposition journals were jubilantly aggressive; the papers on the Government side were ambiguous and wavering. Sir Richard Hanley sat at one end of the front bench, facing the table. His hat shaded his eyes, and beyond a certain gravity, his look failed to indicate the ultimate trend of debate and division. He was the cynosure of all eyes; but long training had steeled him against the outward indication of any emotions. Yet was it a vital occasion. The symmetry of a life, long lived before the public, honorable and successful beyond the lot of even the front rank of public men, was about to be either completed, or for ever marred. Which it would be, hardly one in that great assembly knew. Hanley, as everyone knew, was the mainspring, the living embodiment, of the policy

SALT RHEUM BEGAN WITH SCALY SPOTS

On Arms for Years. Used to Crack, Burned and Itched Terribly. Clothes Irritated the Sores. Completely Cured by Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment.

Woodstock, Nova Scotia.—"I had salt rheum on my arms for years. The trouble began with little scaly spots, which kept enlarging and my arms used to crack and bother me awfully. My clothes irritated the sores very much and they burned and itched terribly. I could not help scratching them. I kept them out of water as much as I could, for the water made them worse. I used to rub different kinds of ointment on them, but nothing did me any good, until I tried Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap. I put the Cuticura Ointment on at night and washed next morning with the Cuticura Soap. They soon relieved me and in two months I was completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. Henry Allen, Nov. 29, 1911.

For pimples and blackheads the following is a most effective and economical treatment: Gently smear the affected parts with Cuticura Ointment, on the end of the finger, but do not rub. Wash off the Cuticura Ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water and continue bathing for some minutes. This treatment is best on rising and retiring. At other times use Cuticura Soap freely for the toilet and bath, to assist in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of these facial eruptions. Sold everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post card, Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 45D, Boston, U. S. A.

to be arraigned that night. By it he would stand or fall. And the fall, if that were the alternative, would be great indeed. Never before, probably had Sir Richard been so popular as he was that night, on the eve of what most men thought would be his political eclipse. His was naturally a sympathetic or magnetic nature. Yet he had done numberless kind actions and they were buzzed about in the clubs during the last few days. He had never snubbed or discouraged a young aspirant to public life. On the contrary, he had helped and encouraged, and not infrequently rewarded rising merit. Men who had forgotten these things remembered them now; for nowhere does a man find his level more surely than in the House of Commons. Not a few of the Opposition would have been glad to see the most prominent statesman on the other side come out of the ordeal satisfactorily, and the Government were with him to a man.

But if Sir Richard Hanley was the cynosure of all eyes, not less so was Mr. Thompson-Halliday, as he stood flushed with approaching triumph and self-consciousness to move his resolution.

Indirectly it had got about that this was the payment of some vague debt of obligation. No one could have told the story, but it was in the air; and while it helped to vulgarise and belittle Halliday, it served to raise his victim to the pinnacle of personal appreciation.

Halliday had a difficult task to perform, and he did it with adroitness, and a certain amount of tact. It was his business to harry the Government and yet not to offend the patriotism of the House. Halliday had no intention of posing as a Little Englander. That would endanger his popularity in his constituency, and might lose him his seat. So he adopted a magnanimous tone. There an attractive flavor of patriotic and political generosity. England was credited abroad with grasping proclivities. Her systematic policy of universal expansion was misunderstood. Hence her general unpopularity and isolation. Much of this arose from misunderstanding, with, of course, a substantial substratum of jealousy. All the more reason that when she was in the wrong, or even in a position of doubtful legality—as was the case in the question under discussion—she should take the strong and liberal course of gracefully yielding, displaying her regard for the comity of doubtful, and at the worst untenable. Where were the proofs that the territory in question, within the lines the Government had laid down, had ever recognized the away of British dominion?

Once only Thompson-Halliday lost his magnanimous tone. It was when his speech became personal to the minister who had led the Government, the House, and country into this despicable imbroglio. The hon. member sketched the attitude of the minister in words of fiery scorn. It was with him a matter of personal ambition, of the strong will asserting itself against the better judgment of his colleagues, and of the Prime Minister. Mr. Halliday dissociated Sir Richard Hanley with a certain sharp acumen from the rest of the Cabinet, and wound up by saying—Proofs! Proofs! We ask for proofs. Show us by one genuine document; such as the public can understand, apart from any legal chicanery, and we withdraw our motion; we yield our opinion; we subscribe our allegiance, and England, of all parties and both sides of this House, stand shoulder to shoulder together.

After Mr. Thompson-Halliday's motion had been briefly seconded, in an apologetic speech, by an independent member on the Government side of the House, Sir Richard Hanley rose to reply. Before doing so, he deposited certain documents on the table before him. The speech began with an almost pathetic reference to the responsibility of the statesman to whom the honor of England was entrusted in the face of a difficult situation, where a false step could never be recovered, where there was doubt and difficulty on both sides, and right was obscured. In one sense, he added, it does not make it easier to have the most loyal colleagues—here he turned to his more immediate supporters and received an eager, responsive cheer—who are willing to believe in the individual judgment of the minister entrusted with that special department of administration, and to stand by his decisions. Yet, he added, I should be sorry to forfeit that confidence, nor could a man standing in my place work with effect for his country unless he had that confidence and comparatively a free hand. It is easy for the hon. member who moved the resolution before the House to lay down laws as to abstract rights, and to speak of generosity towards States smaller and less powerful than ourselves; but there are fifty thousand people to be considered, who have learnt to look to this country for protection, for good government, for the certitude of civil and religious liberty. It is not my place, speaking as a Minister of the Crown, to say one word deprecative of the State with whom we have been the past tense struck the House as used with deliberate emphasis—in dispute; but ideas on such subjects vary with climate, with race, with geographical areas. The ideas of Transalpia on such subjects are not our own. Sir, there are Englishmen in hundreds within the disputed line of territory; there is English money there. What has been done for it in the development of its internal resources has been done by British pluck and enterprise. Sir, these men appealed to me—they do so daily. I had an urgent message this very morning—and the minister took a cablegram and handed it to his nearest colleague on the Treasury bench—we may be generous to Transalpia, but if that generosity involves the sacrifice of men of your own kin, who have developed these resources under the belief that they were safe beneath your flag—if it involves the depreciation of property acquired by British energy, and which you have undertaken to safeguard—then, sir, I venture to think generosity may assume an unfavorable guise; it may come perilously near to pusillanimity.

When the cheers which interrupted this declaration, in which the word generosity was uttered with fine irony, were ringing through the Chamber, Mr. Thompson-Halliday rose white with rage, and shouted—Rights! Rights! They have their rights! Produce your proofs—if you have any!

Sir Richard looked at the interrupter with calm scrutiny for a moment, having first placed his glasses on the bridge of his nose.

Yes, sir, this gentleman is correct. They have their rights—and so have we. I am asked for proofs. I have them. They are lying on the table before me. They are absolutely indisputable.

The effect of these words was extraordinary. The greater part of the House shrieked itself hoarse with delight. Thompson-Halliday and one or two of his staunchest friends and supporters jumped to their feet, gesticulated, and strove vainly to make themselves heard above the din. At length silence was restored, and Halliday shouted—

What is the good of making such statements? Prove it. Prove it.

I intend to prove it. The great statesman took up the papers. Here is a grant of land, more than a hundred years old, by the British Government to a German squatter named Muller, at the furthest point of the disputed line. If that spot is included all is included.

Oh, the Government of that day would grant anything—for a consideration, interpolated one of the leaders of the Opposition, with fine scorn.

Possibly, put in Sir Richard mildly. If my recollection is correct, one of the right hon. member's ancestors was a prominent member of the Government when this grant was made. The House was convulsed with laughter. Sir Richard went on—

This Mr. Muller was a far-seeing man. He might almost be styled a prophet. He went out of his way to procure from the Government of Transalpia—the then Government—a declaration that the property he had secured was within the sphere of British influence. He evidently thought there might be a dispute about it.

LIGHT BREAKS IN

Thoughtful Farmer Learns About Tea and Coffee

Many people exist in a more or less hazy condition and it often takes years before they realize that tea and coffee are often the cause of the cloudiness, and that there is a simple way to let the light break in.

A worthy farmer had such an experience and tells about it, in a letter. He says:

"For about forty years, I have had indigestion and stomach trouble in various forms. During the last 25 years I would not more than get over one spell of bilious colic until another would be upon me.

"The best doctors I could get and all the medicines I could buy, only gave me temporary relief.

"Change of climate was tried without results. I could not sleep nights, had rheumatism and my heart would palpitate at times so that it seemed it would jump out of my body.

"I came to the conclusion that there was no relief for me and that I was about wound up, when I saw a Postum advertisement. I had always been a coffee drinker, and got an idea from the ad. that maybe coffee was the cause of my trouble." Tea is just as harmful, because it contains caffeine, the same drug found in coffee.

"I began to use Postum instead of coffee and in less than three weeks I felt like a new man. The rheumatism left me, and I have never had a spell of bilious colic since.

"My appetite is good, my digestion never was better and I can do more work than before for 40 years.

Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Write for copy of the little book, "The Road to Wellville."

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be well boiled.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. A teaspoonful dissolves quickly in a cup of hot water and with the addition of cream and sugar makes a delicious beverage instantly. "There's a reason" for Postum.

The House forgot to cheer. It was the emphasis of silence. Never had a more complete answer been offered by a minister in the memory of man.

I have only one thing to add. The proofs—for which the hon. member was so anxious—have been submitted to the representative of Transalpia in this country, and he has expressed himself completely satisfied. Sir, I leave the issue and this motion in the hands of the House.

Maud lay back with her hands behind her head, listening intently, occasionally interpolating a question, while Murgatroyd described the scene.

Only her eyes showed the intensity of her interest. When the narrator came to the climax, with the conclusion of her father's speech, she lent eagerly forward, clasping her knees.

Oh, it was splendid. Father must have been delighted—proud.

We all were of him. And it is your doing. No! Only a little part.

We shall never forget it—never.

It was fortunate at this juncture Sir Richard Hanley came in, or Murgatroyd might have said more than was opportune.

Sir Richard wrung his hand. Once again, true thanks. You have placed me under an obligation I can never repay.

Then his eyes rested on the two—and something seemed to cross his mind. First he looked a little stern and then he smiled. Murgatroyd read the glance—and was not altogether dissatisfied.

THE END

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed for ever; condition of the mucous surfaces.

Always there is a different way of doing things. A photograph from the East illustrated the building of the Bagdad Railway shows the laborers carrying the heavy metal sleepers, not on their shoulders, but on the lower part of their backs, where a wide belt helps to sustain the load. Both arms are looped over the burden, holding it securely, and the scheme seems to be a good one.

How to Read the Moon

Few people can tell at a glance whether the moon is waxing or waning. Here is a whimsical rule to remember by. It is very simple to those who know Latin, and is not difficult for those who do not. The first thing is to notice whether the moon is like a D or a C—that is whether the full semicircular curve is on the right or the left. If the moon shows a D that naturally stands for decreasit. It wanes.

But then comes in the great principle. The moon is always deceitful, and one has to understand the opposite of what the moon says, so that a moon which shows a D is a waxing moon, while a waning moon is like a C.

Those who have no Latin will no doubt look to see whether the moon says it is decreasing, in which case they will understand that it is waxing, while a waning moon will deny that it is decreasing.

TO SAVE CRYSTAL PALACE

Lord Mayor Appeals to London Times to Raise Money to Make it Public Property

At the urgent request of the Lord Mayor of London, Sir David Burnett, The London Times has undertaken to raise $450,000 to save the Crystal Palace which the Court of Chancery had ordered sold by auction, and make the palace and its grounds, covering some 200 acres, public property instead of being split up into building lots.

For nearly two years the present Lord Mayor and two predecessors had been seeking to raise $1,150,000 necessary to make the purchase, and despairing of completing the fund, Sir David Burnett appealed to the London Times to open its columns for subscriptions to the amount of $450,000, that being his estimate of the balance he will be unable to obtain. The Times responded to the appeal with the explanation:

So far as we are aware, The Times has never before, in all its long history made so direct an appeal to its readers for a large sum of money for an important national object as we make today. But the circumstances are unusual and the case, in our opinion, as cogent as it is intrinsically good.

King George promptly subscribed $1,000, Queen Mary $500 and Queen Alexandra $500.

Lord Plymouth, whose means and public spirit enabled him to advance the $1,150,000 needed to preserve the property, gave $25,000.

A private citizen, whose identity is to remain unknown except to the Lord Mayor and The Times, offered to contribute ten shillings for every sovereign subscribed by the end of a certain month, limiting his responsibility in this respect, however, to $150,000.

The Times gave $5,000, the Duke of Westminster $5,000, W. Perkins Ball $5,000, the Rothschilds $1,250, and further large and small sums were soon added.

The other newspapers of England immediately rallied to the support of The Times, and the prospect is favorable for speedily securing Crystal Palace for the nation.

Requisite on the Farm.—Every farmer and stock-raiser should keep a supply of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil on hand, not only as a ready remedy for ills in the family, but because it is a horse and cattle medicine of great potency. Only a Difference in the Kind. Professor Nichols, a famous physicist, during the recitation of a freshman class in natural philosophy, observed a tall, lanky youth in the rear seat, his head in a recumbent position, his body in a languid pose, his eyes half closed, and his legs extended far out. He was either asleep or about to lose consciousness.

Mr. Ricardo, said the scientist, you may recite. The freshman opened his eyes slowly. He did not change his somnolent pose.

Mr. Ricardo, what is work? Everything is work, was the drawing reply. What? Everything is work? Yes, sir.

Then I take it you would like the class to believe that this desk is work? Yes, sir, replied the youth wearily, wood work.

Canadian Peace Centenary

The Canadian Peace Centenary Association is now actively at work organizing Provincial Committees and prosecuting its campaign for the coming celebration of one hundred years of peace between the British Empire and the United States.

E. H. Scammell, the organizing secretary, has just returned from a brief visit to the Maritime Provinces, where the movement has been most cordially received. In New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island strong Provincial Committees are being formed, and there is every indication of a large and growing interest.

Mr. Scammell will visit Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, with a view to considerably enlarging the membership of the Association, and securing the active co-operation of the Provincial Governments and the leading professional and business men in the four Western provinces. As this celebration will be more than a gathering and demonstration it is desired to secure the assistance of the Educational authorities, Churches, National Societies, Women's Organizations and Labor Unions.

In addition to the Canadian Association there are two others at work, one in the United States and one in Great Britain, both of which have extensive programmes. Sir Edmund Walker is President of the Canadian Association, Mr. Andrew Carnegie chairman of the American, and Rt. Hon. Earl Grey, late Governor General of Canada, chairman of the British Committee.

Forty-Sixth Anniversary of Great Ammunition Company

Just forty-six years ago, with the spirit of reconstruction then abroad in the land as a moving influence, began the first successful manufacture of metallic cartridges in the United States. Some while before, when journeying through the West, Marcellus Hartley had seen a roughly made metallic shell or case made to contain the charge of a gun and had given this idea considerable thought. After the Civil War some ten years later, realizing the importance of metallic cartridges for the new breech loading arms, Mr. Hartley's firm bought up the plants and patents of several unsuccessful factories and on August 9th, 1867, the Union Metallic Cartridge Company was incorporated, a half century after the first Remington gun was made at Ilion, N.Y.

In the 50's, skin cartridges and those of parchment and linen holding the powder and bullet and percussion caps had been made, together with a few inferior rim fire cartridges; but now came this new industry more important than all the rest combined. A mechanical genius was sought and found in the person of Alfred G. Hobbs whose master skill had brought him the $1,000 in gold offered by the English Government for the man who could pick the lock of the bank of England. Nearly all the special machines required were the inventions of Mr. Hobbs. At first, rim fire cartridges were turned out, but with Col. Berdan's revolutionary invention of the primer, central fire cartridges became the bulk of the output. The far-famed primers developed by the Remington U.M.C. experts have enabled the company's ammunition to go through all climatic conditions and prove absolutely normal in any test.

In 1873 equipment for making shotgun shells was installed and in the early 80's shotgun loads were supplied. As our readers well know the two great companies, the Remington Arms Company and the Union Metallic Cartridge Company, amalgamated several years ago, and since have been doing business as one.

THE WORLD'S WORK DEPENDS ON THE WORLD'S DIGESTION

From the captain of industry to the bod carman—from milady in the auto to the woman with the scrubbing brush—the accomplishments of every one of us depend absolutely on the accomplishments of our stomachs. Backed by a good digestion, a man can give the best that is in him. When his stomach fails, he becomes a weakling. To this loss of power no one need submit. Right habits of eating, drinking, sleeping and exercise, aided by Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, will restore and maintain the full efficiency of the human mind and body. Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets contain the active principles needed for the digestion of every kind of food. They go to the assistance of the weakened stomach, and enable the sufferer, right from the start, to assimilate and get the benefit of the food eaten. With this assistance, the digestive organs regain their tone, and soon the use of the tablets is no longer necessary. If your stomach is not working properly, try Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, see at your druggist's. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal.

BELONG TO SAME FAMILY

Muscalonge, Pike and Pickerel are all Closely Related.

Three divisions of the pike family are known to anglers, and these are named muscalonge, pike and pickerel. The gamest of the group, of course is the muscalonge, and students claim that two varieties are found. This may or may not be true, but they confuse the Great Northern pike with the muskie in many parts of the country.

In this section we generally consider the muscalonge as the largest member of the pike family as specimens as large as 100 pounds have been reported, but in Europe the common pike often runs to a corresponding size.

Muscalonge, pike and pickerel of course, are all more or less similar in shape, and their fins are of the same number, the base body coloring of green or yellow also being similar in the different species. In all too, the belly color ranges from white to cream. But this is as far as the similarity goes. In the muscalonge the body markings are always and invariably a dark brown or black and are either round spots or vertical blotches, according to one well known author.

Gentlemen,—I have frequently used MINARD'S LINIMENT and also prescribe it for my patients always with the most gratifying results, and I consider it the best all-round Liniment extant.

Yours truly,
DR. JOS. AUG. SIROIS.

There was a travelling man once who found himself short of funds. His first thought, of course, was to wire his firm, which he did. In a night letter he explained the situation and asked:

How shall I act?
The next morning he got a day message, which was nothing if not illuminative.

Act as if you were broke.

There was a cow on the track. The shoe drummer, who had been cutting cards for the cigars, beckoned to the porter.

Boy, is that cow still on the track? Yes, sir.

How fast is the train moving? 'Bout 50 miles an hour while de cow am on de track.

And how fast is the cow going? 'Bout five miles an hour, sah.

Well, here is a quarter. Take a few yards of rope up to the engineer and tell him to hitch the train to the cow. We might make make better time.

Professional Criticism

At a banquet of New York newspaper men recently, a story was told to exemplify the pride with which every man should take in the work by which he makes a living.

Two street sweepers, seated on a curbstone, were discussing a "comrade" who had died the day before.

Bill certainly was a good sweeper, said one. Yes, conceded the other, thoughtfully, but —don't you think he was a little weak around the lamp posts?

Sleeplessness.—Sleep is the great restorer and to be deprived of it is vital loss. Whatever may be the cause of it, indigestion, nervous derangement or mental worry, try a course of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. By regulating the action of the stomach, where the trouble lies, they will restore normal conditions and healthful sleep will follow. They exert a sedative force upon the nerves and where there is unrest they bring rest.

Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, the other day discussed a fellow senator who had been sitting on the political fence with great skill for months. Every one suspects his true position, but no one can probe it. It reminded Ashurst of the incident that followed the kidnapping of Jesse James, the outlaw.

A stranger entered the morgue, said Ashurst, and raising his hat politely, addressed the morgue keeper.

Sir, said he, would you do me a great favor? Will you permit me to see all that is mortal of the honorable Jesse James?

Sure, said the morgue keeper. He walked to the marble slab and pulled out the dead robber. The stranger gazed earnestly. Then, replacing his hat, he started to leave.

One moment, said the morgue keeper. Why did you call the dead man, the honorable Jesse James?

Because, said the stranger, I wasn't quite certain he was dead.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and
Dr. Sabouraud, the great French
Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Rexall
"93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair; and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it.
We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall "93" Hair Tonic used during a trial, if you will use it according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your more request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.
